DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 34 to 40, drawn to a diaphragm pump with pressure and vacuum ports having axes that are perpendicular to the axis of motion of the diaphragm, classified in class 417, subclass 537.
- II. Claims 41 to 43, drawn to a diaphragm pump with pressure and vacuum ports having axes that define a plane that is parallel to the planar interface, classified in class 417, subclass 559.
- III. Claim 44, drawn to a method of assembling a diaphragm pump, classified in class 29, subclass 888.02.
- IV. Claim 46, drawn to a pipette gun including a diaphragm pump, classified in class 422, subclass 100.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions III and I, II, IV, respectively, are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)).

In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such as using a press to self-lock the housing components.

Art Unit: 3746

Inventions I, II and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility because it does not require pressure and vacuum ports having axes that define a plane that is parallel to the planar interface, or a gun housing. Likewise, each of the other inventions does not require the features of each of the remaining inventions for its operation. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Claims 1 to 33 and 45 link the various inventions and will be examined with the claims of the elected invention.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: the species of figure 3, the species of figure 13, and the species of figure 16.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1, 6-17, 23, 24, 31, 32, 34 to 37 and 41 to 46 appear to be generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

A telephone election was not attempted by the examiner in view of the complexity of the restriction requirement.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
